Brainstorming & Prioritization Template:

Several machine learning project ideas related to the banking and finance domain were explored, including Loan Eligibility Prediction, Credit Risk Assessment, Credit Card Fraud Detection, and Credit Card Approval Prediction. Each idea was evaluated based on its real-world relevance, feasibility, data availability, and implementation complexity. After prioritization, Credit Card Approval Prediction was selected because it addresses a practical banking problem, automates the approval process, reduces manual effort, improves decision-making accuracy, and can be effectively implemented using Python and machine learning algorithms.
